FINAL MEETING OF YEAR IS HELD BY PACIFIC AVENUE P.-T. A.

Officers' Reports Read and Approved—Membership Now Numbers 543

FINE PROGRAM GIVEN

Retiring President Presented With Beautiful Bouquet and Framed Motto

The regular meeting of the Pacific Avenue P.-T. A., was held Thursday, June 9, at 3:15 p. m., Mrs. Stone's room. Mrs. Lucas, the president, presiding. After the flag salute led by Mrs. Tuttle, "America" was sung. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and then followed a full, but condensed report of all chairmen for the year by the historian, Mrs. Harold Adams. Much was accomplished. Our membership is now 543. Our school received especial mention in the national convention in Washington, D. C.

The Federation conference for June 10 was mentioned as was also the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle picnic, Wednesday, June 15, at La Ramada park. Mrs. Lucas presented the following list of officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. Mae Rosenberg; vice president, Mrs. William Parlender; secretary, Mrs. Grover Adams; treasurer, Mrs. George Moore; historian, Mrs. Ross Russell, and parliamentarian, Mrs. L. D. Tronsier.

Mrs. Lucas was presented with a beautiful basket of immense Canterbury Bells, blue and pink carnations, sweet peas and Baby's Breath, intertwined with ferns. And on closer inspection she found a framed motto, "Happiness," tucked in among the flowers.

Miss Doris Packer entertained the ladies with a one-act play, "What Every Woman Wants," in her most charming manner.

Rev. Cole of the Christian church spoke on "Parents' Responsibility." He gave much good advice and much food for thought, and saying it was the great task of schools, churches and kindred associations to develop the personality of our children. Mrs. John Catton, accompanied by her daughter, sang "Gypsy Trail" and responded to an encore.

After a rising vote of thanks to the entertainers, all adjourned to the court and were served punch and dainty cakes by the teachers of the school.

PAINFUL INJURY IS SUSTAINED BY BOY

This morning while riding a bicycle Walter Roberts fell to the pavement and sustained an injury to his hip which made it necessary for him to be recommitted to Children's hospital. Under the careful attention which he will receive, however, his recovery is hoped for within six weeks. Less than a week ago Walter was released from a 14-months' treatment at the hospital for infantile paralysis, and this additional misforttune came as an unexpected shock to his many friends.

Can't "Muzzle" Sims

(By International News Service)

LONDON, June 10.—Rear Admiral Sims, U. S. N., today virtually defied the American navy department to "muzzle" him. The admiral, who has been called upon by Secretary of the Navy Denby at Washington to explain his sensational "jackass" speech Tuesday, made another public address at a luncheon this afternoon at which he announced that he intends to keep on saying what he thinks.

Admiral Sims was the guest of the American Luncheon club. Before the luncheon the admiral admitted that he had received a cablegram from Secretary of the Navy Denby demanding an explanation of his previous speech when he referred to "Jackass" resolutions of sympathy for the Sinn Fein in America and charged the Sinn Fein with being responsible for the loss of American lives in the war.

"MARY'S MILLIONS" BY SENIOR PUPILS WINS GREAT APPLAUSE

All-Star Cast Well Balanced and Play Most Amusing From Start to Finish

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND

Play Well Written and Fairly Bubbles Over With Rollicking Humor

"Mary's Millions," the senior high dramatics play, was given last evening before a large and appreciative audience. The program was opened at 8:15 with a selection by the high school orchestra, which also played between the acts. The lighting effects were fine and the costumes and make-ups were very good. The auditorium was practically filled, although it was the first night of the play and a school night.

"Mary's Millions" proves to be three million dollars which were made in the oil fields of Texas. Mary's aunt (Louise Wimmer) is very anxious for her to marry a French count (Wilbur Johns), who, with his sister the countess (Margaret Mandaville), is trying to get Mary's (Millicent Alvord) millions.

Jack Henderson (Arthur Campbell), a civil engineer and friend of Jimmie Barnes (Brigham Bennett), a city slicker and salesman for the Consolidated Air Line company, which is thought to be a crooked game, is very much in love with Mary (not her millions). Jimmie is in love with the young schoolteacher (Myra Johns).

Abijah Boggs (Thomas McNary) creates much laughter with Eudora Smith (Edith Haggman), the hired girl of Ezra Stoneham (Stanley Walker), the postmaster of Rocky Hollow and uncle and guardian of Mary Manners. Mrs. Mudge (Ida Wilbur) is a smalltown busybody and ouija board advocate.

A pearl necklace is a very important factor of the play. The choir most outrageously murders a beautiful song about the strawberry festival, and Brigham Bennett made a hit by just acting naturally.

Tonight will be the last chance to see this play.

ENLISTING STATION WILL REMAIN OPEN

The required number of men, necessary in order to organize the New Headquarters Company of the National Guard, have been enlisted. The company will probably be organized as soon as Captain Watson, the commander, returns from Sacramento, where he is now attending a conference of National Guard officers of the state. Arrangements have been made for more men, so the enlisting station at Brand and Broadway will be kept open. There is no limited number now, so all wishing to join, who can pass the required examination, will be allowed to do so. It will be necessary to have some promotions with the mustering of the new organization, so there is a good chance for those who get in before then.

Those who enlisted yesterday were: H. Anunson, K. Peterson, B. Franklin, H. Russell and O. Parker. The Guardsmen will leave on their annual two weeks camp, which is to be held at Yosemite valley, on July 10. Those enlisting now will be eligible for this camp.

T. E. HURD MAKES REFUND OFFER

T. E. Hurd of the Acme Meat market says he will pay your carfare and refund your purchase price if you can equal the quality and price in Los Angeles on his meats.

TWO MORE NEW HOMES TO BE BUILT

H. D. Charlton, architect for the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company, has completed two plans for the Rommell Construction company, who will add two more elegant homes to Glendale.

Prolific Hens

Glendale has some hens which are doing their best to increase egg production. At 217 West Lomita five Leghorns who had been segregated on account of being afflicted with severe colds, got well finally and proceeded to make up for lost time by depositing four or five eggs per day regularly. And to crown all, one day last week six eggs were found in the nest when the shades of evening fell and the very next day five was the contribution. Mrs. J. A. Cheever of 339 Concord, has five Rhode Island Reds that laid five eggs for two or three days in succession and one day gave extra good measure by depositing a double yolk egg as one of the five.

FINE MUSICAL TREAT IS IN STORE FOR GLENDALE

Concert Will Be Given Under Auspices of C. E. Convention Committee

As a follow-up of the campaign put on by the Glendale Music club and other organizatioins of this city for better music, an exceedingly fine concert is to be given under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor committee in the Tabernacle the eveninge before the convention opens, viz., June 24.

For this outstanding event which is expected to draw patrons from Burbank, Eagle Rock, La Crescenta and even Los Angeles itself, the Orpheus club of Los Angeles, composed of 60 men, directed by Joseph Dupuy, and famous all over the coast, has been engaged, also the Zellner String quartet, an organization equally famous in its particular line. The soloists will be drawn from these two organizations and that fact in itself is a guarantee of the rare program in store. The proceeds will be used to defray the expenses of the committee in connection with the convention.

A musical treat like this should fill every bench in the big Tabernacle. Mrs. Fannie Marple Rettts is chairman of the Christian Endeavor convention music committee.

PARTY FOR BENEFIT OF DISABLED VETS

Miss Alice Roberts of 509 West Milford street, on Thursday entertained alumni members of the Eta chapter of the Sigma Tau Psi Sorority. About 20 were present and plans were made for a card party and sale to be given at the home of Mrs. Lucy Hoverwaas at 3805 West Twenty-Seventh street, next Saturday, for the benefit of disabled soldiers. Many beautiful articles will there be on sale and a handsome floor mat will be disposed of through the sale of tickets. A disabled soldier will be present and tell his personal story. Many beautiful prizes have been donated for the card game. A large attendance is expected and all proceeds will be donated to the soldiers.

VOTE TO ACCEPT WAGE REDUCTION

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Unconditional acceptance of the 7½ per cent cut in wages ordered by a board of arbitration and which has been in dispute since May was announced early today by the building trades council.

The acceptance came on the heels of a strong appeal made by Supervisor Ralph McLeran, who urged that "these are days of tolerant adjustment all over the world."

The council after a long session voted to accept the cut and sent a letter to the builders' exchange which had declared an open shop policy as a result of the previous refusal.

BUILDING PLANS ARE BEING PUSHED BY CHURCH PEOPLE

Building Committee, Pastor, Architect and Congregation Have Meeting

FUNDS TO BE RAISED

Twenty Teams Appointed to Raise $3000 Each to Provide Amount Needed

The harmony and enthusiasm evidenced by the 160 members of the Congregational church present at the supper at which the ladies' auxiliary was hostess last evening, when plans for obtaining funds for the new church building were discussed, gave promise of a successful campaign.

Masses of coreopsis graced the seven long tables where the guests were served a bountiful supper, at whose close the plans for the campaign were explained.

Seated at the speakers' table were Rev. Charles M. Calderwood, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Calderwood; Carleton M. Winslow, the architect of the new church, and Mrs. Winslow; Dr. and Mrs. George F. Kengott, and the members of the building committee and their wives: Messrs, and Mmes. Blake Franklin, Thomas White, E. D. Yard, Hartley Shaw and Charles B. Guthrie.

Dr. Calderwood acted as moderator and introduced Blake Franklin, chairman of the building committee, who explained the congregation's need of a new house of worship and set forth the plans for raising the necessary funds to build it.

C. B. Guthrie explained in detail the plan decided upon by the building committee. Twenty teams were appointed, each to raise by solicitation the sum of $3000, which will amount

"Whistlers" Come High

(By International News Service)

PARIS, June 10.—M. Gassy, a Parisian painter, was strolling past an art dealer's shop some time ago, when he recognized a landscape which he had hastily splashed on the canvass in his Latin Quartier days, years ago, and then disposed of for a song. Curious to ascertain what price was asked for the picture, he entered the shop and nearly suffered a stroke when the dealer said: "40,000 francs."

"You dealers are great humorists," he admonished the shopkeeper. "I know what that canvass is worth; I painted it myself."

"Please begin by being serious yourself," replied the dealer coldly. "This is a genuine Whistler. Why don't you look at the signature?"

The painter had the dealer summoned before a committee of experts, which has just reported that the painting is not a Whistler, but the work of M. Gassy, the plaintiff in the case.

The picture is now on sale for 1500 francs.

Bryan Denounces Sims

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 10.—William Jennings Bryan declared today in a message to the International News Service that Rear Admiral William S. Sims should have been discharged from the United States navy long ago for his intemperate utterances.

Telegraphing from his home at Villa Serena, Miami, Fla., Bryan said:

"I think Admiral Sims should have been discharged from the navy under the last (Wilson) administration when he revealed confidential communications.

"The Republicans sustained him then and they will now have the responsibility of dealing with his latest utterances.

"Age does not improve him. His indiscretions increase with tolerance."

NO CHANCE OF BOYS GETTING HOMESICK

Women in Y. M. C. A. Camp at Pine Flats Will Mother Youngsters There

Rex Kelley, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. says that every provision has been made for the comfort and safety of the boys at the Pine Flats camp this summer. For some of the boys it will be the first time they have ever been away from home and it might mean a little homesickness were it not for the fact that there will be two ladies in camp who will mother the boys and tide them over this period if any of them have an attack of nostalgia.

One of the features of the camp program will be a two-day hike into the snow, and this will be real roughing. The boys will carry their own supplies and do their own cooking. Enough different things will be going on, however, to afford the boys a choice; so that those who do not care for hiking can be occupied in other ways.

Mr. Kelley states that an effort is being made to accumulate a camp library, and through the Press he is asking all who have books suitable for such a library that would be of interest to boys to send them or leave them at the office of the Glendale Press, 222 South Brand, and he will call there for them.

PROCEEDINGS MAY BE DISCONTINUED

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 10.—Dismissal of all criminal proceedings against the eight "Black Sox" involved in the 1919 world's series scandal loomed here today, according to officials of the state attorney's office. The failure of Samuel Pass, wealthy young salesman, to identify Abe Attell, former ring champion, in New York as the alleged ringleader of the baseball plotters was said to have shattered the state's case. Indictment of the eight "Black Sox" was based principally on Pass' testimony.

FIRST BIRTHDAY IS CELEBRATED BY LITTLE GIRL

Little Mary Margaret Salmacia was the tiny hostess at a party which took place at the home of her parents, 361 West California, yesterday. It was a celebration of her first birthday and in honor of the event the house and refreshment table had been lavishly decorated with baby Cecil Brunner roses. Centering the table was a candlestick containing one large pink candle.

The places for guests were marked with cards each bearing a tiny doll, and at each place was an individual birthday cake carrying one candle, and with these birthday cakes ice cream was served. The list of small guests, all of whom were accompanied by their mothers, was as follows: Peggie, Bettie and Sonny Clark, Jane and John Brennan, Regina Mactaulff, Dorothy Barretta, Frae Rohr, Margaret Rita Smith, Bettie Jane Boothby, Mary Elizabeth Patch, Rosemary Le Sage, Billy Gaze, and the little hostess, Mary Margaret Salmacia, who was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

ROMANCE OF LATE WAR

Ceremony Takes Place in Los Angeles—Young Couple Now on Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McLaren of 303 North Jackson street, this city, are announcing the marriage of their son, Robert Lee McLaren and Miss Marie Goldberg of Los Angeles, which took place last Monday evening at the Broadway Christian church, Los Angeles, Rev. W. S. Buchanan officiating. Only members of the immediate families of the contracting parties were present as witnesses.

Following the ceremony the young couple left for a short honeymoon at the beaches.

Glendalians will remember that the bridegroom served with the 91st division over seas all through the war and it was the cheerful letters from Miss Goldberg, now his bride, and his mother that kept up his courage during the Argonne fight and other engagements no less strenuous that tried the souls of our American soldiers.

Mr. McLaren is now in the employ of the government as a mail carrier in Los Angeles. He and his bride will reside in a pleasant apartment at 430 North Beaudry street, Los Angeles, where they will be at home to their friends after June 15.

GRADUATING CLASS HAS MASQUERADE PARTY LAST NIGHT

The A8 4's of the graduating class at Intermediate had a masquerade party Thursday evening at 7:30 at the school. The early part of the evening was devoted to fortune telling. Helen Bchannon was the seeress and Dean Andrews the seer, at these mystic investigations into the future.

Popular songs were sung and games were played. About 40 were in attendance, the class teachers, Norman Whytock, Miss C. Taylor, Miss Clara Midcalf, Miss Gladys Sharpe and Principal Miss Noble, being in attendance.

Guests were costumed as Spanish dancers, clowns, Dutch children and gipsies. Near the close of the evening the class presented Mr. Whytock with a handsome pair of cuff links, Raber Beaman making the presentation speech.

Refreshments of sandwiches, ice cream and cake were served.

LINEBERGER WIRES TO GET BUSY IN LOCAL P. O. FIGHT

Says Now Is Opportune Time To Press Establishment of Local Office

DR. HARROWER REPLIES

Glendale People Must Secure Necessary Signatures by Next Tuesday

Dr. Henry R. Harrower has just received a telegram which was sent to Attorney W. E. Evans from Congressman Lineberger which reads as follows:

"Petition for separate postoffice for Glendale has not been received. Proposition of enlarging present facilities is being taken up and believe it to be opportune time to press establishment of independent postoffice.

" W. F. LINEBERGER, M. C."

In view of the fact that June 30 is the end of the official postal fiscal year and that the business of the Glendale postoffice is growing a good deal more rapidly than some people imagine, and also in view of the fact that the authorities in Washington have in mind to extend our facilities here, we agree with Congressman Lineberger that now is indeed an opportune time. And we understand that Dr. Harrower has telegraphed to Congressman Lineberger as follows:

"Evans hands me your telegram. Signatures on petition almost completed. Evans leaves for Washington next Wednesday and will bring same to you personally in hope that both of you can deliver them to proper authorities at postoffice department with some well chosen words. We thoroughly appreciate your aggressive friendly attitude.

"HENRY R. HARROWER,
"Chairman P. O. Committee,
"Glendale Chamber of Commerce."

An attempt will be made to have these petitions available for signatures in as many of the clubs and fraternal meetings as possible between now and next Wednesday, when Mr. Evans leaves. Patrons of the Glendale postoffice who are heads of families should go out of their way to sign these petitions at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce office or any of the banks as soon as possible, for we still have several hundred names to secure before the minimum of 2000 is obtained.

MUSIC STUDENTS MAKE GOOD SHOWING

Glendale students of Mr. Kuhnle's who have passed the examination of the board of four head teachers at the Los Angeles Conservatory of Music are Kathleen Lord and Merrill Emkee, preparatory grade; Albert Muske, Virginia Glass and Gertrude Muske, intermediate grade.

'Der Tag' a Bad Bet

Ireland is still laughing over "Der Tag." But it is really no laughing matter. The Freeman's Journal of Dublin, to mark the appointed day for the coming into force of the Irish home rule act, issued a poster on which was printed in large type the simple words:

DER

Unfortunately, it happened that on the day the poster appeared a horse named Der Tag was running at the Curragh races. Newspapers here furnish exhaustive racing charts, and the sport-loving Irish at once assumed that the poster was meant for a racing tip. They bet their last farthing on Der Tag and when the horse limped in near the end of the string hastened to the newspaper office demanding explanation.

Now they are expressing their opinion of editors in general, and particularly those who mix up details such as home rule with the serious business of horse racing.

GLENDALE LODGE, K. OF P., HAS BANNER MEETING LAST TUESDAY

The banner meeting of the year for Glendale Lodge No. 331, Knights of Pythias, was held last Tuesday evening at Castle hall, corner of Park avenue and Brand boulevard.

About 50 members of the Van Nuys lodge were guests of the evening, and made use of the chance to boost most enthusiastically for their coming carnival.

Two members of the lodge's new orchestra, Messrs. Brooks and Hibbert, contributed several much appreciated musical selections to the evening's entertainment.

A tasty lunch was served in the banquet hall where talks by Messrs. Murfit, Joliffe, Rehberg, Spence, Page, Palmer and Bartlett of the local lodge, as well as those by Van Nuys visitors, were much enjoyed.

On last Sunday members of Glendale lodge attended the memorial services at Forest Lawn memorial park and assisted in decorating the graves in the Pythian burial plots.

At next week's meeting the rank of Knight will be conferred, and on Thursday evening the members of Glendale lodge will be the guests of Van Nuys lodge.

Haynes is a newspaper editor and has the endorsement of the anti-saloon league and Senator Willis of Ohio. For some time Haynes served as head of the Miami military institute at Germantown, Ohio, when he gained the title of major. He has been prominently identified with the work of the Methodist Episcopal church and the anti-saloon league. In 1912 he was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for congress against Representative Fess.

MRS. CAMPBELL IS HOSTESS TO GUILD

Mrs. Helen Campbell, 718 East Harvard street, was hostess yesterday afternoon to the ladies of St. Mark's Guild, at their regular meeting.

Reports from the lawn fete held recently by the ladies showed a gratifying gain of $200, with all bills paid; the report is incomplete, however, and this sum will be substantially increased when all the returns are in.

Sewing was the principal occupation of the busy day, but the ladies took time while they sewed to plan a picnic for Wednesday, June 22, at Brookside park.

This is the day of St. Mark's Sunday school picnic, also, and those who are willing to lend the use of automobiles for the day are asked to communicate with Mrs. Mortimer Baker.

Mrs. A. C. McIntyre, mother of the hostess, and one of the oldest members of the congregation, was a special guest of the occasion. She is in feeble health owing to her advanced age, but was happy to be able to sit up yesterday. She and her husband celebrated the 57th anniversary of their wedding a few weeks ago.

Those present at yesterday's meeting were Mrs. B. L. Holbrook, president; Mrs. Mortimer Baker, vice president; Mrs. R. H. Downing, secretary, and Mmes. Le Roy Bosserman, F. Tard, F. England, Eleanor Squires, John Trotter, C. L. Hill, Speck, R. A. Wells, J. L. McOmber, J. B. Chapman, B. J. Smith, H. L. Jenkins, Kelly, P. E. Corey, S. T. Howland, S. W. Parr, H. W. Saulsbury, H. W. Hopkins, A. C. McIntyre, Miss Ellen Williams and the hostess.

If you don't get what is coming to you in this world, don't be uneasy, Hell was provided for that purpose.

to the necessary $60,000 to build the church. Subscribers have three years in which to pay their pledges, which may be paid in monthly installments during the first year, and in one payment during each of the two succeeding years. The work of these teams began this morning.

Carleton M. Winslow, the architect, showed pictures and plans of the proposed church, which will be of modern Spanish architecture, in harmony with the characteristic architectural development of Southern California, but entirely religious and devotional in its character, a distinct credit to the city of Glendale as well as to the congregation which is building it.

Dr. Kengott, district superintendent of the state, spoke of the growth of the church in Glendale and the loyalty of its members, saying he had known this congregation since its beginning and had taken an especial interest in it; he praised its commendable spirit of progress in showing its desire to keep pace with the growth of the fastest growing city in the United States, by building a church in keeping with that growth.

Mrs. George Colson was chairman of the committee on arrangements for last evening's excellent dinner.

The new church edifice will be built on the site of the present church at the corner of Central and West Wilson avenues. The auditorium fronting on Central avenue, will seat 750; the church school, other church organizations and also the social activities of the congregation, will be provided for in other sections of the handsome building.

Sickness in Rev. C. A. Cole's family, suspected at first to be diphtheria, caused him to miss some of the appointments of his always crowded routine. His sister, Miss Jewel, and little Connor, the younger boy, had tonsilitis, but both are now well on the way to recovery so Rev. Cole is again on the job.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mose, 711 South Louise street, and their house guest, Miss Helen Goldbeck, of Chicago, will be week-end guests of their friends, the Stephenson family, of Avalon, Catalina island.

HARPIST TO PLAY AT 'DEESTRICK SKULE'

Mrs. Enona Hopkins, one of the recent additions to Glendale's colony of musicians, has donated her talent to the City Teachers' club for the repetition of the "Deestrick Skule," which the club is to give at the Tabernacle, Monday night. Mrs. Hopkins is a very fine harpist and will play between acts. It will add much to the performance and be a great treat.

This production is taking place that the many who were disappointed in securing seats for the matinee and evening performances at the high school may have opportunity to see the clever farce, and also as a benefit for the Pueblo flood sufferers, all proceeds to go to the relief of the suffering in Colorado.

LADIES WILL HOLD COOKED FOOD SALE

Ladies of the Church of the Holy Family will hold a cooked food sale, all day tomorrow, or as long as the goodies last, for which the many good cooks within their ranks are famed.

The sale will be held in the Glendale Phonograph and Pnano company's store, 109 North Brand boulevard, and will be the last one these ladies will hold until next fall. Ladies in charge during the morning hours are Mmes. Elsie Buechler and Brosseau, and in the afternoon Mmes. Farrel O'Neill and Francis Heller will have charge.

There are many designs in period furniture, but the bomb and torch monopolize the field as hyphen furniture.

LION INFECTED "JUNGLES" OF NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Jay Bruce, Official Lion Hunter for State, Lives in Mountain Fastnesses and Trails Giant Cat to Its Lair—Unique and Dangerous Means of Livelihood

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9—Hunting mountain lions for a living!

This unique and dangerous means of livelihood has but one follower and he has made a success of it.

Jay Bruce, official lion killer of the California Fish and Game Commission not only makes his own living in hunting and killing the predatory mountain lion but provides for his family as well.

Bruce, by far, is the most interesting character of the mountains of the west today. To him mountain lion hunting is a business. He is tireless in his hunt for the giant members of the cat family who actually kill more deer than do hunters, and who annually destroy more thousands of dollars worth of domestic animals.

Hunting lions is Bruce's life. He gets genuine pleasure out of trailing this most baffling mountain terror and recently told J. S. Hunter of the Fish and Game Commission, that were he a millionaire he would spend his time just as he does now—in hunting lions.

Bruce now draws a salary from the commission for lion hunting. He also receives a state bonus, many counties pay him a bonus, and in addition he receives some revenue from the sale of the skins of the slain animals.

His chief and only aides are Ranger and Eli, the only lion hounds in the world. Bruce has trained them from puppies so that they could follow no other trail than that of a lion. They feed only on cooked meat of the lion in order that they shall not be weaned from their training. Ranger and Elf are both veterans of the lion trail, and Bruce is now training Rover and Ranger to replace them when they grow too old.

Has Dog's Sense of Trail.

Eli is known as "Eli, the silent" because he never utters a sound until on the trail of a lion. Rover and Ranger are proving apt pupils. Bruce values his dogs highly, but those who know him state that Bruce has even a keener trail sense than the dogs a keener tail sense than the dogs. because the trail is too old, or discover they are following a back trail. Again the dogs will lose the trail and Bruce will put them on it again. He is able to do this through his knowledge of the lion's habits and the deep study he has made of the lion country.

Bruce has killed close to 100 lions He hunts almost continually, coming to his home only when his dogs need rest. His hunting is done almost entirely on foot, as he treks through a country in which it would be impossible for a horse to follow the trails. He uses a big automatic revolver instead of a rifle. In years gone by he used a rifle and always shot for the lion's eye. However, experience and a number of close shaves caused him to abandon the rifle and take to the heavy revolver. He also shoots for the heart now.

It was an accident that caused Bruce to enter upon his business of lion hunting. Born in Mariposa Co., Calif., where lions abounded in the early days, Bruce spent much of his time as a youth in the mountains becoming thoroughly familiar with the habits of animals of the forest.

Lion Census is 575.

An injury to his hand in a lumber mill in which he was employed made him seek other employment and he turned to the work he knew and loved best. For a time his only pay was the bounties he collected. His fame spread and the State Fish and Game Commission employed him. Since then he has worked chiefly in the game refuges with great success. His greatest kill in any one month has been eight lions.

"Contrary to the general opinion lions are not abundant in any part of the state," according to J. S. Hunter. of the Fish and Game Commission. "Humboldt county leads with a total of 564 killed during twelve years' time. The animal has been so reduced in that county that the kill has dropped from 113 in 1908 to 8 in 1919. In Shasta county, the next one on the list the kill has been less than one-half, 261 killed during the same period. Here, however, the animals have apparently not been reduced to the same extent, as the kill in 1919 was approximately the same as in 1908.

"In Trinity county 260 have been killed; last year only 14 as against 18 in 1908. In Siskiyou county none were killed last year; but in 1908 the number totalled 31 and in the twelve-year period 241. From this it would seem that lions in Siskiyou county are greatly reduced if not practically exterminated. Only one other county, Mendocino, reports more than 200 the first twelve years. In that county 219 have been killed: the number 22 taken in 1919 is just one-half those killed in 1908. Tehama county killed three during 1919, as against 31 in 1908, making a total of 159 in twelve years.

One Lion Kills 52 Deer.

"It is evident from the above figures that California lions are being slowly reduced in number and that the animals killed approximately if not entirely exceed the natural increase. If this is true we can form a very good idea as to the number of lions in the state. Forty-two per-cent of the lions sent in for bounty are females. The female lion does not bring forth a litter each year, but every other year. Sometimes three kittens are born but the usual number is two. This would make the kill of 243 in 1919 the offspring of 243 females or 42 per cent of the total number of lions in the state. This calculation would give a lion population in California of about 575, which, we believe, is somewhere near the actual number.

"This number of lions can do an enormous amount of damage to the deer. The minimum estimate of the number of deer killed by a single lion each year has been placed at 52. Five hundred and seventy five lions will kill at least 30,000 deer during the year if deer are available, and deer are common in every part of the state where lions are found.

GENTLEMAN BANDIT FAILS TO LOCATE CACHE OF MAIL POUCH

(By International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, June 10. — Roy Gardner, "gentleman bandit," was on his way to McNeill's island federal prison today badly disappointed. He had hoped to win a $2500 reward for his faithful little wife, who has stood by him throughout his career of crime as a mail bandit, but someone beat him to it.

Taken secretly from the county jail here yesterday heavily guarded, Gardner endeavored to lead the officers to the hiding place of a cache of $175,000 mail loot. Gardner took the officers to the cache, but the mail pouch was not there.

In taking Gardner to the alleged cache, postal officials admitted for the first time that there had been a robbery of mail train No. 10 at Roseville, May 19. It had previously been announced the robber was frightened off by railroad employes.

After failing to find the pouch, Gardner was placed on a train for the north. Had he found the pouch a substantial reward was to have been paid his wife.

Fred Roberts, the lad's father, is one of the pioneer business men of this city, confidently awaits his son's speedy recovery and is glad to report that his other three children and wife are enjoying perfect health.

STATE PROTECTION IS NEEDED BY GIRL

FARINGTON, Mo., June 10.—Under terms of a writ of habeas corpus granted today, Mrs. Letta Parsons, illiterate 13-year-old wife of John Parsons, charged with slaying her six-year-old stepdaughter, will be carried to St. Louis where a judge in the court of appeals will decide whether the girl wife can be held for the juvenile court in the event she is acquitted by a jury.

Judge Peter Huck of the Farmington circuit court recently decided that the alleged child slayer needed the protection of the state and placed her in charge of a juvenile court probation officer. Defense attorneys announced today they could free her by acquittal if a superior court rules that she may be tried in a court other than the juvenile branch.

WILL HANG SIX ARKANSAS NEGROES

(By International News Service)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 10.—Last minute efforts to block a writ of habeas corpus preventing the execution today of six negroes for complicity in the 1919 Elaine race riots, were frustrated early today by the Arkansas supreme court.

The supreme court upheld the temporary injunctions granted yesterday by J. E. Martineau of the Pulaskey county chancery court. The habeas corpus petition which asks the injunction, alleged that the condemned negroes did not obtain a fair trial at Helena,

UNITED STATES FACING PROBLEMS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10—Speaking before the National Association of Credit Men here today, Henry M. Robinson, president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles and of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, outlined the problems faced by the United States as a creditor nation. Mr. Robinson, who was formerly a commissioner of the United States Shipping Board and a member of the Supreme Economic Council at Paris, representing the United States, and who is recognized as one of the foremost authorities on international finance, brought to the convention the results of conferences held with other executives of the American Bankers' Association and by officers of the United States Chamber of Commerce and of the American Society of International Law, in Washington.

Pointing out that the difficulties as faced by the nations result not from the want of production, but from the lack of proper international distribution of goods and the disorganization of exchange, Mr. Robinson said, in part:

America Creditor Nation.

"The materials necessary for carrying on the war were largely furnished by economies in consumption throughout the world and by the speeding up of production. To pay for these materials loans, both internal and external, were floated, and of the goods used in Europe, both during and since the war, a large part came from the United States.

"We financed these shipments through loans made to foreign countries for our own products but the money was spent within the United States.

"Europe could, of course, expect to pay for these products only through service rendered, we through gold shipped to us, through transfer of credits to other countries, or through the return to us at a later date of goods of equal value.

"Due to their inability to return our goods or to render us service, Europe has sent us enough gold to bring our stocks up to approximately one-half of the total supply of the world and transferred credits to us, and the debt is not yet paid.

"This extraordinary readjustment, which has left America the outstanding creditor nation of the world, has, whether we like it or not, forced us into an international relationship which never before existed. Economic conditions have forced us into economic entanglements, and since political movements to-day follow economic movements our cherished aloofness from foreign entanglements is gone.

Reciprocation Necessary.

"This shift in the positions of the nations has placed us in a position which at first appeared to be extraordinarily advantageous but we are in a most inconsistent attitude toward the problems with which our new position has brought us face to face.

"We are acquiring additional gold from our less fortunate neighbors; we are establishing, or endeavoring to establish, protective tariffs, and even embargoes, against an influx of goods from the nations in our debt; we are endeavoring to maintain and even to increase our exports and to carry these in our own ships. Is it not obvious that all these things cannot be successfully continued by one nation at one and the same time.

"In order to maintain a reasonable prosperity we are most anxious to give employment to our people and to use all of our facilities of production. Neither can be done unless we can dispose of our excess products, for the nations with whom we trade can pay for what they get only by what we take from them, and the amount we take must at least be equal to what we sell, or the buying power of the debtor nation stops. Even a continuance of an equal exchange of goods makes no provision for the payment of the loans which we have already made.

Loan Policy Unwise.

"In so far as our imports are less than our exports some method of establishing a balance must be set up, for we can not long continue the present practice of making additional current loans; to pay for this deficit current loaning is unwise both from a national and an international standpoint, and we are discussing, without going forward very fast, the creation of the foreign trade financing corporation, through which long term credits may be established.

But neither current loaning nor the proposed financing corporation will completely solve the problem and this fact leads us to the inevitable conclusion that we must make permanent investment abroad, either in actual physical property in the securities of the nations with whom we trade or in the securities of their people, and to the conclusion that these investments must continue to be made at least until such time as imports and exports are on a more nearly even basis.

"It is therefore most desirable that we so conduct ourselves that we may greatly modify this feeling of dislike and animosity. This is particularly necessary if we are to continue in commercial relations with the rest of the world.

BOND ISSUE OF $26,000 WILL HOUSE CITY EQUIPMENT

That voters may have a clear understanding of the uses to which the city proposes to put the $26,000 bond issue for which it is asking, to provide a warehouse in which to house city equipment in the way of motor cars and supplies, a statement of the property owned by the city, for which housing is sought and setting forth the proposed site of such warehouses, has been prepared by the city manager and will be printed and distributed to voters prior to the election. The statement will be accompanied by diagrams showing the lots desired, and pictures of the motor vehicles and other property to be protected. Following is the statement as submitted to the board of trustees and approved by them:

"To the Voters and Taxpayers of the City of Glendale:—

"The city of Glendale has needed for the past several years a warehouse, garage and other buildings and material yards for the purpose of storing, housing and caring for, material, supplies, motor vehicles, heavy tools, construction implements, machinery and equipment that is used in the city service. The cost of such buildings and the ground necessary therefor and for material yards is estimated at $26,000. This sum is too large to be met from the ordinary revenues of the city in any one fiscal year, therefore a proposition to authorize $26,000 of Glendale municipal bonds to meet the cost of this investment was submitted to the voters of the city on March 29 last, but failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority of the votes cast at that time. This proposition is again submitted, believing that the failure to authorize this issue on March 29 last was largely on account of the voters at that time not having had placed before them full details in regard thereto, also with the belief that if such details are placed before the voters and the necessity for these buildings and material yards realized, these bonds will be authorized as a business proposition.

"The board of trustees upon receipt of petitions signed by 512 qualified electors of the city of Glendale requesting that this question be again set before you, have placed it on the ballot as one of the propositions to be voted on at the general municipal election to be held June 28, 1921. Accordingly, the following statement is issued that you may vote advisedly on this proposition:

"The city of Glendale owns and operates in the several divisions of the service, 21 automobiles and trucks and two motorcycles. These machines represent an original investment of $19,472.31. During the month of March these vehicles were driven 11,571 miles. This includes service as follows: General supervision of all city service, sanitary inspection, milk inspection, inspection of water supply, scavenger service consisting of gathering and disposing of garbage and waste matter and street cleaning, forestry, police and traffic service, general street repair and resurfacing street excavations, engineering field work, building inspection, water and light construction, service connections and general maintenance of water and light distributing system and collections. The cost of operating all of these machines for the same month was $902.51.

"From the above it may readily be seen that these autos and trucks represent a large investment and require a considerable sum to cover the cost of operating and maintaining them. It will also be seen that they are indispensable to the rendering of such service as the people of Glendale require of their municipality.

"This large number of machines has developed from a small beginning in August, 1913, of two Fords and one Packard truck. At the present rate of growth the city will require a 50 per cent increase in the number of these machines within the next two or three years.

"No adequate provision has been made for caring for these vehicles. Some are housed in the small garage located at the rear of fire house No. 1, others are housed in the old fire house near the city hall. The upkeep and repairs are taken care of as best they can be under such circumstances.

"It would seem that after reading the foregoing any taxpayer and citizen of Glendale will say at once that the city needs a garage in which to house and care for these machines. A part of this $26,000 bond issue is proposed to be used for this purpose. It will require the purchase of one lot 50 by 150 and the building thereon of a garage that will cover practically the entire lot. This will cost approximately $7000, including the purchase of the lot.

"The picture on the front page of this report sets forth the 21 motor vehicles of Glendale assembled on a vacant lot at the rear of the city hall. You will readily see from the picture that it will require at least one ordinary building lot on which to house these machines.

"In addition to motor vehicles as set forth above, the city uses in the division of street maintenance a large amount of apparatus and heavy tools, also graders, scrapers, wagons, teams, etc. At the present time these are housed in temporary buildings located on rented property, the lease on which will expire shortly. It is quite essential that this property also be properly housed and taken care of and that the employes who operate this division have a headquarters from which to carry on their activities. This will require a site of at least two 50-foot lots and suitable buildings and sheds erected thereon consisting of stable, sheds for wagons, implements and tools, and yards for material. This will cost approximately $6000.

"The City finds it necessary to keep on hand from $15,000 to $25,000 worth of materials and supplies that are needed in the various divisions of city service. This consists largely of materials that are used in the construction and maintenance of the water and light systems, although considerable material is also needed in the public works department and for general office supplies. No adequate provision has been made to store this material. It is now taken care of at a great disadvantage on account of there not being room in the present small warehouse or upon the small lot adjacent thereto, that is used in connection therewith to store it, so that it may be readily obtained when required. In order to properly store this material and these supplies it will be necessary to have a fireproof building the dimensions of which will be approximately 30 by 70 feet, built so that it could be enlarged as needed; and in connection therewith material yards for storing heavy materials that do not require to be kept in a building. This will require at least three 50-foot lots. The approximate cost of this building and three lots will be $13,000.

"These proposed buildings and material yards are to be located on the six lots immediately north of the city hall, as set forth hereon on diagram. These lots will cost approximately $10,000. Options have not been secured but inquiry has been made of the owners as to the price these lots are being held at, and we are confident that they can be purchased at the above figure. From investigations that have been made, we are confident that the owners of this property are willing to sell it to the city at a reasonable price. If for any reason, however, any portion of it should be held for a figure above the market value thereof, the city has ample power to condemn the property at a price fixed by appraisement. This location has been chosen by reason of the fact that it is adjoining the present city offices and is also adjoining the electrical substation from which the water and light plants are operated. This will permit of the most economical operation of the city service by reason of the fact that operative headquarters of all the several divisions and the supplies and equipment necessary therefor will be located close together and near the general offices.

"The accompanying diagram sets forth the general arrangement of the proposed buildings and material yards. This is somewhat tentative, however, and subject to whatever changes or additions may be found advisable when detailed plans are prepared.

"The proposition to authorize $26,000 of Glendale municipal bonds for purposes outlined above is submitted with the thought that the voters and taxpayers of Glendale will consider it as a business proposition and that their good business judgment will lead them to authorize these bonds on that basis.

"Respectfully submitted,
"BOARD OF TRUSTEES."

HAWAII READY FOR PRESS CONGRESS

(By International News Service)

HONOLULU, Hawaii, June 10.—Between 450 and 500 publishers, editors and newspapermen from all parts of the world will gather at Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii better known as the "crossroads of the Pacific" from October 11 to 25 inclusive, as delegates to the Press Congress of the World, of which Dr. Walter Williams dean of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, is president.

Persons of all races in the Hawaiian islands arre making extensive preparations for the entertainment of the delegates, and there is not to be one idle moment from the time the first contingent arrives until the time the last has been sent aboard its ship bedecked with wreaths of flowers the Hawaiian symbol if "Aloha Oe" and good luck. Under present arrangements four full days will be given over to the serious business of the congress, and the remainder of the period will be devoted largely to sightseeing, the programme including visits to every island of the Hawaiian group.

Historic Convention Chamber.

The business session of the congress will be held in the historic old throne room of the capitol at Honolulu, which was the home of the Hawaiian monarchs prior to the annexation of the islands to the United States, and it still retains some of its picturesqueness of former days. The room, with its crystal chandeliers, life-size portraits in oil of Hawaiian and foreign sovereigns, its huge mirrors and striking decorations, is now used as the biennial meeting place of the Territorial legislature.

At Honolulu there has been formed a general Press Congress committee, which is handling all of the general arrangements. It is composed of Wallace B. Farrington, general business manager of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, chairman; Lorin A. Thurston, publisher of the Honolulu Advertiser, vice-chairman; L. W. de Vis-Norton, of the Hawaiian Publicity Commission secretary, and John R. Galt, of the Hawaiian Trust Company, treasurer. Each island and each group of language newspapers has a vice-chairman to serve as a member of the executive committee.

Mr. Thurston is chairman of the general entertainment committee, and the program now being arranged includes all of the most interesting tours to be made through the Paradise of the Pacific. It is planned to charter a special steamer to carry the delegates to the outside islands of the Hawaiian group and this trip will include a visit to the famous active volcanic crater of Kilauea, on the island of Hawaii and to the equally famous extinct crater of Haleakala, island of Maui, where one may walk for miles through huge depressions which was once a seething sea of molten lava.

Hula-Hula Interpretation.

The beautiful native aspect of Hawaiian life will not be forgotten during the Congress, despite the fact that the territory is a highly modern integral part of the United States. It is planned to revive for the occasion some of the great Hawaiian pageants which are now extremely rare. The Hawaiian people themselves look upon the Congress as an opportunity to show something of what the race stood for in the height of its glory and nobility. Among other things, the delegates will hear the finest Hawaiian music and will see what is meant by the genuine hula-hula dance in contrast to the vulgarized version which has become rather sporadic away from the islands.

One day during the Congress will be exclusively under the auspices of the Pan-Pacific Union, and it is planned to revive on this occasion the impressive flag ceremony of the Pacific nations presented in Hawaii.

Will Wilke, publisher of the Grey Eagle, Minn., Gazette and retiring president of the National Editorial Association, has been elected by the executive committee of the Congress to be chairman of the committee on transportation. The 1921 session of the Hawaiian Legislature appropriated $25,000 to assist in entertaining the delegates, and the citizens of the territory will raise an additional $25,000.

The new motor fuel called "penrol," with which experiments have been made in the Transvaal, is described as being chiefly a mixture of alcohol, dissolved acetylene and other hydrocarbons. In practical trials, it is stated to have great power in hill climbing, rapid acceleration, and smooth engine performance. While its mileage is 9 or 10 per cent less than that of gasoline, the price is more than correspondingly lower. Manufacturing is being arranged, and this fuel is expected to be regularly supplied within six months.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

IN THE QUALITY OF MEATS THAT ARE OFFERED FOR SALE IN GLENDALE

ranging all the way from 4 to 5 cents per pound

When I go into the packing plant to select the meat for my trade I close my eyes to price and look only at the quality of the beef. I select out of a cooler containing perhaps 200 carcasses. I will find only a few, perhaps a half dozen, that are of quality which would justify my placing my stamp upon them.

At the different packing houses I am known as a crank for first-class meats. I will buy nothing else, and yet the prices at the Glendale Market have been so near what is being charged for inferior grades of meat that you can hardly observe the difference with the naked eye. How do I do it? By being careful and economical in the management of my business and by keeping down overhead expense. My business, which is second to none in Glendale, is conducted under one roof, not spread out all over town, with a tremendous overhead expense for rent in different localities. Yet the Glendale Market, through its delivery system, reaches every home in the city. That's why I can sell you the very best meat at the same price you pay for lower grade, which is always unsatisfactory.

KANSAS GIRL IS GREAT MIND READER

ATCHISON, June 10.—"Ask the Dennis girl, she'll tell you."

That's how it all started and today Miss Eugene Dennis, 16, is known all through this section of Kansas as a mind-reading marvel whose powers have startled not only this city but the surrounding towns as well.

The little frame house of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Dennis, is flooded with letters asking Eugene's aid. Letters, letters from front door to back, and still they come in a never-ending stream with every trip of the postman to the cottage door. Mrs. Dennis says there are a thousand of them—and that figure is not exaggerated, for they are piled in boxes, on top of the piano, in the window boxes, on the dining room sideboard, the parlor table and in Eugene's room upstairs.

They came in a flood as the girl's powers became known throughout the countryside, and Eugene is patiently numbering them as they arrive and is spending nearly all her spare time trying to answer them. She is almost tearful in her desire to give those who appeal to her in distress the benefit of her powers, but it is a trying task, for she goes to high school each day and can only devote her spare time to her monumental task.

"Tell them just to give me a chance," she pleads. "A thousand letters is a lot of mail and it takes time to concentrate upon every one and send the answer. I'm doing my best and I'm going to answer every one if it takes from now till doomsday."

Eugene's mind-reading power was not developed in a day. It did not come to her in a vision or as the result of some chance experiment in telepathic science. She was born a psychic and her psychic powers have developed naturally.

When she was but two years old, according to her mother, she said one evening: "Mother, there is something wrong with me." A little later she said: "Mother, I see an old man." After that she said she saw a man and some people. Mrs. Dennis paid no attention to this, but as the child grew she observed that her little girl knew many things she could not understand.

At school she saw other "faces" and "forms" which greatly puzzled her playmates.

When she was 11, a reader at a psychic research society meeting saw her and told her she was a medium. "I can see a band of 30 guides around you," she said. From that time on Eugene developed her power, which she perfectly understands. When 12 years old she began giving messages. Her powers were always used in a spirit of helpfulness and not as "parlor tricks." Gradually her uncanny sense of revealing things became noised around. Startling things began to happen. She related things which she could not possibly know except through psychic connection, and finally even the skeptic began to be convinced.

Recently she has been sought far and wide by many and then the flood of letters began to come.

Eugene scarcely knews what to do, she is so beseiged with calls, messages and letters. She is in her third year at high school and is an exceedingly bright student and intends to remain at her studies until she finishes her course, even though that mountain of letters awaits her when she returns home after classes, not to play, but to sit at the dining room table and begin to write.

OBITUARY NOTICE

Death of C. M. Lund

C. M. Lund, who was one of the old residents and pioneers of Glendale, died this morning after a lingering illness which kept him in Victorville for several months in the hope of bettering his health. His son, Chas. R. Lund, is conducting the blacksmithing business which his father established many years ago, and with which his name has so long been associated. C. M. Lund was a prominent Odd Fellow and his death will be a shock to many friends of long standing.

Mrs. H. C. Young Widowed

Members of the city W. C. T. U. have learned with sorrow of the passing of H. C. Young, husband of Mrs. H. C. Young, state secretary of the W. C. T. U. The local organization has passed resolutions of sympathy which will be forwarded to the widow.

Modern forest protection has brought a curious new injury in the Wichita National park. With the almost complete abolishing of fire, red cedars have sprung up among the oaks, but have been badly broken in a way that seemed at first mysterious. Investigation at length showed that horns, which became twisted and tangled in the tree branches until they were wrenched free. Cattlemen have agreed to run none but dehorned cattle in the forest, and a striking result is already apparent, the number of trees twisted and broken having become suddenly very small.

NEW IN ENGINEERING

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 10—A fallacy in cryogenic engineering has been discovered by Atherton K. Dunbar, a member of the Harvard staff, who with a research group has been working under the direction of Harvey M. Davis, of the engineering school. Dunbar has proved that "Baly's curve," accepted for twenty years as a statement of fundamental law, is wrong. Having designed a new type of apparatus for the purpose, Dunbar tested it with liquid air. To his surprise he found "Baly's curve," hitherto accepted as the gospel truth, was quite inaccurate.

SEA TANK LIKE A LAUNCH

The sea tank which has been under test at Marseilles is built in the form of a heavy launch, but in addition to a screw it has caterpillar wheels and it is otherwise adapted to serve as an amphibian. After carrying out its evolutions on land, it slips gracefully into the water, where it is propelled about like any motor boat, and when required it crawls up the bank and becomes a land tank once more. In the trials made this specimen of the new machine type carried five persons besides the inventor.

AS THRILLING AND MORE REALISTIC THAN MOVIE STUNT

More than 10,000 persons witnessed the annual hill climbing contest held recently at Jaw Juan Capistrano, Southern California. They marvelled at the attempts of the cyclists to ascend the seemingly impossible grade and were treated to thrills galore. The photograph shows one of the daring contestants, to save himself from going down the hill backward, making a quick dismount.

COLOMBIA TREATY RATIFIED BY SENATE

(From America at Work)

The senate of the United States has, by a vote of three and one-half to one—69 to 19—ratified the treaty with the United States of Colombia, providing for the payment by the United States of $25,000,000 in view of the loss sustained by Colombia in the organization of the Republic of Panama under our protection. Fifteen republicans and four democrats opposed ratification; forty republicans and twenty-nine democrats supported the treaty. Thus is a tardy act of reparation consummated at last.

The republic of Panama was formerly a department of the republic of Colombia. It asserted its independence November 3, 1903, and the government was recognized by the government of the United States just ten days later, on November 13. The present treaty was negotiated in 1914. With the Olympian leisureliness so characteristic of the senate, it has been seven years getting ratified by our South American neighbor.

So far as the rights of the case are concerned, we are perfectly willing to accept the statement of Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States when the republic of Panama came into being. "I went and took it," he said, "and let congress talk." This terse and truthful utterance sums up the matter. Every reader of the daily press in 1903 knew that Colombia was prevented from using any means to quell the revolt of Panama by the presence of United States forces "to preserve order." In holding that the United States, though technically neutral, was really responsible for the loss of its isthmian possession, Colombia has been well within the truth. The fact that Colombia is a country of less than one-twentieth of the population of the United States and wholly without naval equipment did not make the matter better; it only made it worse.

Now that the treaty has been ratified, let us all hope that relations of cordial intercourse between the United States and Colombia may result. This country has an area of 440,000 square miles—more than France and Germany put together, or say, about the area of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota. Its strategic position is of immense importance as it has coast lines of considerable length, both on the Carribean and the Pacific. The great Magdalena river lies wholly within Colombian territory and so does an important part of the water shed of the Orinoco. Colombia has a wide variety of climate. The coast lands are hot and low-lying, but the wide valleys between the great mountain ranges which roughly parallel each other north and south are healthful and their altitude—Bogota is 8600 feet above sea level—gives them the cool bracing air of the temperate zone. The principal articles of export are coffee, hides, bananas, gold, silver and platinum. It is a fact of curious interest that nearly all of the emeralds mined in the world come from Colombia. The timber resources, as well as the country's supply of minerals have hardly been touched. The national debt, on March 1st, 1919, was $1.63 a head. An indebtedness 12 times as great per head was contracted by the people of the United States by the first—and smallest— liberty loan.

Colombia needs capital and technical men for her development. The Magdalena is navigable for about 900 miles. The government is engaged in developing a series of automobile roads. The railroads of the country have a length of less than 800 miles.

There is more than a money profit to be made out of co-operation between the people of the United States and those of Colombia. The flourishing cities of the southern republic number many men of ability and enterprise; they are centers of artistic, literary and musical interest, as well as of trade and commerce. Co-operation between the United States and Colombia, vitalized by a mutual esteem founded on acquaintance on the part of each nation with that which is best in the life of the other, would be a great force for international peace and prosperity throughout the new world. The people of the United States rejoice in the settlement of the Colombian treaty. The Valley of the Mississippi salutes its neighbors in the Valley of the Magdalena.

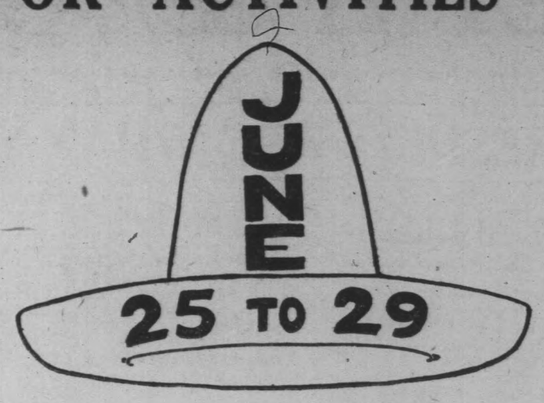
CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR ACTIVITIES



GREAT CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION IS ANTICIPATED

A great deal of interest is being shown by the members of the entertainment committee in their party to be held tomorrow night at the Central Christian church. This will be the first time the whole committee has been together, just the executive or the cabinet having met together previously; so a good time is anticipated, and if the plans of the committee in charge are carried out no one who goes will fail to know everybody else who is going to serve on this committee.

Probably most people don't realize just what a task is before this committee, but each day the members are grasping a little more of the problem confronting them, and are only too anxious for the real work to begin, which will be on the 18th when the big house to house canvass will take place. More workers are needed for this canvass so that it may be all finished early in the day and the various captains are working hard trying to get additional help, all of whom are invited and requested to come to the big party, where instructions will be given so that each one will know just what to do.

Young men and young women, don't forget the big entertainment party—there will be games, refreshments, and a short, yes, very short business session. Everyone is invited to come if only they are willing to help in the canvass, or have signed up to work at the committee headquarters at the Tabernacle during the greatest and best state convention ever held in the state of California.

GLEN AND DALE.

The hot-water cooker of a German electrician has the form of an elongated tank with two circular holes for cooking pots in the top. Two, four or more parallel carbon plates an eighth of an inch apart are immersed in the water of the tank, and current from a lighting socket is passed through the plates and the water, the latter being quickly heated to boiling. A current of four amperes effects heating of food in 15 minutes with a consumption of 0.25 kilowatt hour.

Styles change, but now as always the attractive thing about dancing is one's partner.

The back-to-the-wall movement is assisting greatly in the back-to-the-farm movement.

Appeared before me this 17th day of May, 1921, J. W. Usilton, general manager of the Glendale Publishing and Printing Company, who deposes and says that the above is a true statement of the circulation of The Glendale Daily Press on the date above named.
